The Swatch Art Peace Hotel House Artist Residency Open Studio Rules and Regulations

The Swatch Art Peace Hotel would be delighted if you were interested in hosting one open studio at the end of your stay and sharing your work with all those you have met in this vibrant city.

During your open studio, please be aware that other resident artists are still around you, and we ask for your consideration of the below guidelines when you organize your open studio event:

Invitations and Guest List

Please note that you will be responsible for creating your own guest list and invitations through your own means.

Set Up

All work that you would like to display must be set up in your own apartment or workshop.

Public Areas

Please be aware that the public areas and their facilities should only be used in connection with your open studio event in a way that will not disturb the other resident artists.

Could you please provide the following information to the Swatch Art Peace Hotel team?

- Date of your open studio
- How many guests are you expecting?
- Will your open studio require any outside assistance?
- Will you require the use of nails or hooks to hang your work?
